The way we watch the internet today is very different than in 2008 when YouTube was launched. At the time, the video website offered great ways to discover new content. While today many people are sharing their original videos on sites like YouTube, back then it was a completely different story. Productivity mode makes the video experience less cluttered, allowing you to focus on the actual video and enjoy it. Introducing the official Productivity mode extension for YouTube YouTube Productivity Mode allows you to stay in control of your experience. In your master bedroom, on a lazy afternoon on the couch, or while commuting: you decide how you want to watch YouTube. Productivity mode is for those who believe that enjoying YouTube is only a matter of what you do with the content, not who's on the other end of the screen. That's why the extension does not interfere with the video experience; it simply reduces the number of distractions, giving you the space you need. Go ahead and dive into Productivity mode, and let your mind wander. – Customize the view with 3 modes - Leisure Mode, Productivity Mode, and Custom – Choose how you want to view YouTube – without the video ads, auto-skip, autoplay, autoplay by default, and more – No more distractions: See images on the video thumbnails – You choose how you want to use the extension - block unwanted interstitials, autoplay, autoplay by default, as well as the experience you want.
